

100 Things - Masayuki Sebe

Published by Gecko Press, RRP $19.99

Kids love counting things. This clever counting book will keep them occupied for ages as they explore the patterns, groups, sets, themes and puzzles. Pre-schoolers and early readers will have fun following the mazes and discovering the hidden gems. The more you look, the more you see.

The author/illustrator includes visual jokes amongst the animals, insects and children that fill the pages. Sometimes the humorous additions are quite small which adds to the delight of the discovery. The large format, bright colours, quirky characters, and a variety of page design heighten the appeal.

An imaginative book that will hold the attention of young children and the adults who share it with them.
