How does the Giraffe get to Work?* – Christopher Llewellyn illustrated by Scott Tulloch

Publisher: Scholastic New Zealand

*“It's a little known fact, but definitely true, the animals only work at the zoo.
At night they go home like the rest of the staff,
the zebra, the tiger, the chimp and giraffe.”*

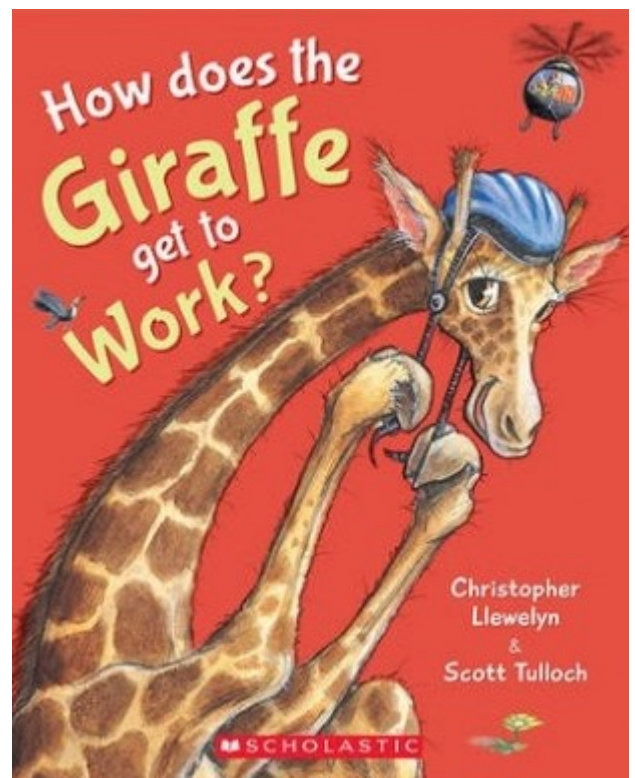

And so this delightful animal tale begins. If they go home each night then they must come back each morning.

Christopher Llewellyn has a sure touch with rhyme and rhythm. Scott Tulloch adds to this his delightful take on each creature with their various modes of transport in the morning.

Each illustration gives the young child having this tale read to them plenty to study as these full colour illustrations include so much more than the bare bones of the book.

A fun Christmas gift for the young animal lover who will find plenty in here to laugh about.
