Go For Gold Sports Puzzle Book – Barbara Telfer, illustrated by Peter Bray

Publisher: Scholastic Australia

RRP $10.00

2014 is a great year for such a book, with two sporting spectacles on top of the usual package of tennis and golf opens, rugby internationals etc.

And what better month to launch this book than June with World Cup football in Brazil, World Cup hockey for men and women in the Netherlands and the Glasgow Commonwealth Games coming up, plus Golf and Tennis Opens.

With winter weather and mid-year school holidays in July, this book should keep house-bound children happily occupied for many hours. It could also be used on that long car journey or as a family challenge.

From Page 1 to 101 there are puzzles of many kinds, from word finds to mazes, from cross words to ... you name it, and the wide range of topics and the inclusion of so many sports should provide sufficient challenge for even the most sports-mad child.

Simply illustrated and very timely – and with answers provided as back-up for those parents who find their knowledge stretched!
