Chook Doolan: the Tiny Guitar* by James Roy illustrated by Lucinda Gifford

Publisher: Walker Books, Australia

RRP $9.99

Book four in the Chook Doolan series, this is a story of determination and application, a story of empathy and kindness.

Chook likes to talk to the man who busks on a corner he passes every day from home to school and back.

When this man is taken to hospital, Chook devises a plan to help the man by saving his busking spot for when he returns. He overcomes his fear of performing in public and is rewarded by the man's understanding and kindness.

The large print, lively illustrations and short chapters with plenty of action will delight the young reader as they make the progression from large print picture books to longer chapter books. Recommended for children aged 5+.
